MDOT to move gas lines delaying 603

BY LIZ HAAS

The Waveland Mayor and Board of Aldermen will enter into an agreement with the Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) to have the department relocate the gas lines on Highway 603.

The matter of who must pay for relocating the lines and how much is owed will be decided in court at a later date.

MDOT is widening 603 into a four-lane highway from Stennis field to Highway 90 to accommodate increased traffic.

MDOT contends utility owners are responsible for paying the costs of moving their utilities. The underground lines belonging to the City of Waveland must be moved for progression of the work.

Waveland, lacking funds for the project, has been blamed for the delay of work.

Board attorney Lucien Gex said he and the attorney for the highway department discussed entering into an agreed order authorizing the department to relocate the lines in the most economical way and to have other issues tried at a later date.

Two months ago the city negotiated with the department to move the lines for the city and the city would pay them back at zero percent interest.

"The attorney general has said that we didn't have the authority to enter into that agreement," said Gex.

The original estimate of the project was $124,000, according to Alderman Stan Weidman.

"What does the city have to assure this line is moved at the lowest cost possible?" asked Weidman.

Gex said, "I assume they are going to have to get bids, but that is an issue that can be disputed in court at a later date if we feel they do not do it in the most economical way."

"If we do not enter into this agreed order, we are delaying the project even further and the department wants to get the line moved now," said Gex.

Mayor Stella Frilot presented an agreement between the City of Waveland and Bayou Caddy Casino to the board.

"I have met with people from Bayou Caddy Casino and we have ironed out an agreement whereby their charge for sewer-

Fatal accident claims Bay man

BY LIZ HAAS

Steven L. Lizana, 31, of Bay St. Louis was killed Wednesday in an automobile accident on Interstate 10 near the DeLisle-Pass Christian exit.

He and driver Daniel Lee Barber, 33, of Ocean Springs, had stopped to help a stranded motorist and the van they were in was hit by a tractor-trailer while re-entering traffic.

The van exploded upon impact and caused both vehicles to catch fire.

Joel E. Moore, 50, of Alabama, driver of the other car, was not injured. No charges were filed.

Lizana had worked as a salesman for Abbey Commercial Printers in Biloxi since June 28 of this year. Barber was vice-president of the company.

Owner Steve Singletary said of Lizana, "I only knew him for a short time, but saw enough in him to put him on my sales Bay St. Louis was given statewide recognition with three awards at the recent annual meeting of the Mississippi Municipal Association.

"Making Mississippi Move" awards were created to recognize the outstanding efforts of communities. The citizens of Bay St. Louis were honored for their Amtrak welcome. Carol Vegas was recognized for her work with Project Pride, and Gulf Coast Recycling Co. was cited for creating jobs.

In making the presentation to Mayor Eddie Favre at the awards luncheon, Municipal Association executive director Al Sage stated, "When Amtrak announced that Bay St. Louis would be one of the many stops on the Sunset Limited transcontinental run from Los Angeles to Jacksonville, Bay St. Louis went wild.

"In its own inimitable fashion, the city took on the big boys of New Orleans, Mobile, Houston and L.A. and decided that the inaugural stop of the train in Bay St. Louis would be the biggest, most memorable stop."

"City officials and 50 citizens boarded the train in New Orleans to greet the passengers. During the trip, Casino Magic employees played games, a singing trio took to the stage, and Charles Gray gathered history buffs to replay the first train ride of 1869 from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis.

Meanwhile, back at home, other citizens had been working feverishly since 2 a.m. to ready the depot with 3,000 balloons. Businesses closed.

"As the train approached Bay

St. Louis, it was greeted by hundreds of families with signs along the route, and thousands greeted the train upon its arrival at the depot. The passengers were stunned.

"Local citizens boarded the train for a real live Mardi Gras parade and welcome gifts. Bay St. Louis gave these passengers the party of a lifetime."

Blast Off!

From left Michelle Kenny, William Kenny and Emilie Scianna, all of Bay St. Louis, watch their home-made rocket take off at John C. Stennis Space Center's Astro Camp on Friday. Some 35 area kids, ages 8 to 10, participated in the 5-day camp, which included a Space Shuttle mission simulation and the model rocket launching at the Upper Gainesville Road baseball park. The three along with their instructor watch their rocket blast into the sky. The rockets then descended by parachute. The rockets were constructed by the participants. Each student retrieved their payloads after the rocket descended. The participants were divided into two teams, which in turn were divided into crew positions: captain, navigator and payload specialists. Each team examined and evaluated the instruments on their mock control panel, received orders from mission control regarding their assignment and took other procedures necessary to prepare their vehicle for launch. Area code mix up causes problems

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

The shower was running in the background, and Billie Ferguson, who lives at 443 Thomas St., was standing by the phone, dripping wet, saying, "Does this sound like a rent-a-car agency to you?"

That's a scene she described on Thursday as occurring over and over. The caller was in Jackson, Miss., trying to reach Budget Rent-A-Car agency in New Orleans.

You see, Mrs. Ferguson, and Budget's New Orleans location have the same telephone numbers. The only thing that is different is the area code, 504 for New Orleans, 601 for Mississippi.

"I have been getting about 20 calls a day, sometimes late in the night. And you know how you feel when the phone rings late at night. You just know it is an emergency of some sort. But, lately, it's been customers looking for Budget," she said.

She added the calls have been literally driving her and her husband, who is disabled, "up the wall."

"I don't know what to do," she says. "I've called Budget, and asked them to change their number, but they told me to change my number, and that's too expensive and too much a hassle for me."

"I would have to call all my relatives all over the U.S. and give them my new number," she added.

She also said Budget representatives told her that the agency was giving out the area code with the New Orleans number, so they had no expla-

Casino spurs sales tax growth

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

Casino Magic, like a huge money generating machine, has been spewing greenbacks into the local economy, and nowhere is that more evident than in the monthly sales tax diversion to Bay St. Louis from the State Tax Commission.

In addition, the casino, with others along the Gulf Coast, has been attracting tourists and nearby residents from other Southeastern states, who spend money while here or while driving through to reach casinos east of the city.

On almost all retail sales, seven percent is collected by merchants and paid to the state as a sales tax. Eighteen percent of that seven percent is diverted to city governments.

So, by looking at the tax diversions sent by the State Tax Commission to Bay St. Louis, by a simple mathematical formula total Bay St. Louis retail sales volume can be calculated.

And 1993 shows a strong healthy jump over 1992.

After Casino Magic opened its doors in September 1992, monthly figures exploded, and

To Those I Love

and

Those Who Love Me

When I'm gone, release me, let me go...

I have so many things to see and do.

You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears, be happy that we had so many years.

I gave you my love, and you can only guess how much you gave to me in happiness.

I thank you for the love you each have shown, but now it's time that I travel alone.

So grieve awhile for me, if grieve you must, then let your grief be comforted by trust.

Bless your memories with your heart...

It's only for awhile that we must part.

I won't be far away, for life goes on...

so if you need me, call, and I will come.

Though you can't see me or touch me, I'll be near...

and if you listen with your heart, you'll hear all of my love around you, soft and clear.

And then, when you must come this way alone...

I'll greet you with a smile, and welcome you home.

We'll always love you

Progress continues on youth building

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The Save Our Children (S.O.S.) organization continues to improve a building to be used for children's activities in Bay St. Louis.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors leased the old Welfare Office on Necaise Avenue to S.O.S., said chairman Geraldine Lang.

"As work is progressing on the facility, we are still in need of more help," Lang added. This help can be in labor, materials and finances.

A contract has been signed with Dillmann Roofing to handle that phase of the improvements. The local Kiwanis Club is supporting the roof project.

Professional help will be sought to check and install proper wiring in the facility too, Lang said.

"A big need now is for help with repairing and finishing the interior of the structure, such as painting, floor stripping, carpeting, trimming, carpentry, and someone to help set up a library," Lang said.

A number of books have been donated to S.O.S. and others will be welcomed. Liability insurance coverage has been provided by a benefactor.

Another project underway will be fencing the property in the near future.

"The object of S.O.S. is to have the building in operation as soon as possible. We are looking for a September opening," Lang said.

Anyone interested in helping can reach Lang at 467-9586; Bruce Northridge, vice-chairman, 467-0908; or Erlene Washington, board member, 467-1737.

Burleson elected

The 75th annual American Legion Convention was held in Natchez on July 16-18. The Sons of the American Legion held their convention to coincide with the American Legion convention.

T. J. Burleson Jr. of Bay St. Louis was elected to serve as alternate national executive committeeman. He will be a delegate to the American Legion National Convention in Pittsburgh, Pa. Sept. 4-9.

T. J. is the son of Tony and Beth Burleson and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. George Burleson.

He is eligible for membership in the SAL through the service of his two grandfathers. He recently completed sixth grade at St. Clare, and he will be a student at St. Stanislaus this coming year.

Bay council made no decision on Miss. Landing casino request

Councilman Tad Black said on Friday that the Bay St. Louis City Council had made no decision on whether to give developers of the proposed Mississippi Landing development at I-10 and Hwy. 603 a letter of endorsement on the project.

Developers on Monday briefed the council on its plans.

The council at that time, operating in a work session, took no action on the request from developers, nor did the development come up for discussion at Tuesday's meeting.

Mayor Eddie Favre on Friday also said the council has not made any decision so far, and council president James Thrifley III also said no action had been taken.

Developers told the council they planned to spend $100 million to develop what they termed a "resort destination" that would include entertainment attractions to attract middle-income tourists to the development.

They said entertainment attractions would be family oriented.

age will be double the amount of money it costs to treat the sewerage," said Frilot.

Frilot said the casino will upgrade the system, pay for the engineer and put in another lift station for the city.

"They are paying for their own force main to the lift station and are upgrading that lift station for us and are going to put in another lift station for us," she said.

The board authorized Gex to prepare a contract and authorized the mayor to enter into agreement with Bayou Caddy Casino.

The board heard from Jay Fountain and Shorty Necaise, who own a fireworks company in Waveland, concerning revisions in the ordinance on fireworks sales.

"Last year there were a lot of tents coming into town to sell fireworks because Alabama prohibits sales from tents. We feel this is hurting our business," said Fountain.

They requested the ordinance be revised to no longer allow sales from tents, to raise vendors cost for permits and to make vendors have a permit six months ahead of time.

"The tents are a fire hazard and this would also be a way to help your local people," said Fountain.

The board decided to ask the fire chief to review the matter and make a recommendation to the board.

The board approved to table John Broadwater's request of rate changes for taxi cabs.

The board approved:

—authorization of proclamation honoring Waveland citizen Charles Kerr, 81, who won a second place in the U.S. National Senior Sports Classic Badminton Competition;

—authorization to advertise for bids for Federal Aid Urban Project at Coleman and Central avenues;

—acceptance of low bid from R.C. Engineering and Construction of River Ridge, La., for $800 to conduct the semi-annual cathodic protection gas survey of the municipal gas system;

—authorization for Deborah Conravy and Marilyn Smith to attend BBI's Utility Building Seminar August 19-20 in Jackson, costs includes $200 registration fee plus room, meals and mileage;

—the minutes and bills.

VEGAS HONORED

In presenting Mrs. Vegas with her award, Sage stated, "Carol Vegas of Bay St. Louis has a passion for a clean environment that is translated into hard work, constant recruitment to her cause, and energy to teach and groom a more aware community to take up the banner of demanding a litter free community."

"We are honoring her today for taking Hancock County's Project Pride and generating enough interest for the Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee to dedicate itself to 'Litter Free by '93.'"

"The program has involved persons from all walks of life and all ages. It has become a focal point in the community and an issue that has been cohesive as well as effective."

GULF COAST/RECYCLING CO.

In presenting the Gulf Coast Recycling Co. award to Les Fillingame, utility supervisor, Sage said, "The City of Bay St.

Louis awarded its first recycling contract to Gulf Coast Recycling enabling the local non-profit employment project to perform its first municipal contract."

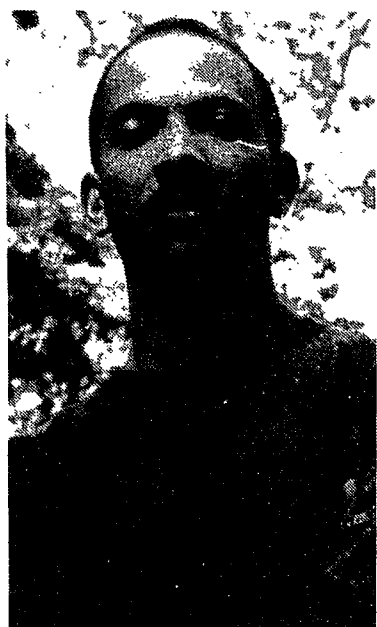

"Gulf Coast Recycling digs jobs out of the trash and salvages human potential while capturing recycling revenues in the local economy."

"This community-based economic development project is designed to provide economically disadvantaged minorities and women who are raising their children alone with training, employment, and ultimately, an opportunity to control and own a business."

"This is the state's first minority-controlled business in a rapidly emerging environmental industry. This successful model project has significant potential for broad replication as a solution to a number of social, economic, and environmental problems in communities throughout the state."

Forch said, "He thought he could do anything, and always wanted to do better and better himself."

Forch and Lizana became friends when they worked together at Dixie Press in Gulfport in 1983.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I was saddened by the accidental death Thursday of Bay St. Louis resident Steve Lizana at age 31.

Steve, a native of Bay St. Louis, was a person well liked by many of the residents of the area.

Steve was always willing to help anyone in need, even the circumstances of his accidental death verify this.

Steve was a former employee of The Sea Coast Echo, as he started work while a high school student as a part-time janitor.

Upon graduation Steve showed ambition and became an assistant pressman.

Later on when there was an opening for a pressman, Steve's ability made him qualified for that position. He remained at The Echo until July, 1984, when he moved out-of-state to a larger operation.

Whenever he visited home, he always found time to stop by and chat with us at The Echo.

Through his dedication to his craft, Steve was an accomplished offset pressman.

Because of his love for his family and Bay St. Louis, last year when given an opportunity, he returned home.

I know Steve will long be remembered and missed by his children, mother, father, sisters, relatives and friends.

So long, friend!

While on my way home from work Wednesday evening, I thought I had gotten behind one of those mosquito spraying trucks of many years ago.

The smoke pollution was coming from an old auto, and it has been a very long time since I saw one as bad as this one.

In all probability the vehicle never had a valid inspection sticker and should have never passed inspection.

If memory serves me well, the exhaust system is supposed to be checked on a vehicle in Mississippi before a sticker is issued.

Since motorists can travel freely in Hancock County with only one headlight operational, what does a little pollution add?

A milestone for Diamondhead will happen Tuesday with the groundbreaking of a Hancock Medical Center Clinic for the fastest growing community in the county.

The modern facility's contract was recently awarded to Beacon Construction of Biloxi.

This is good for Diamondhead, and the new HMC Clinic will be staffed by private physicians in family practice.

The new clinic, along with a post office, show how fast Diamondhead continues to grow.

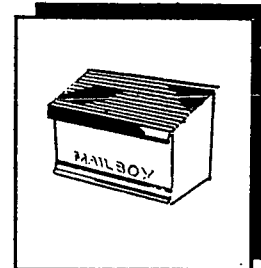

In other good news for Hancock Medical Center in Bay St. Louis, bids are scheduled to be released in August for an expansion of the hospital's out-patient clinic offering diagnostic procedures and same-day surgery.

HMC continues to get more and more doctors and offers more and more services to the public.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Beach 'Boulevard' is only a street

Dear Editor,

Relative to the excessive use of the term 'boulevard' in our city, I would like to append a proper definition of the word.

As you may see from the attached signature, I always use the name 'street' in my own correspondence, for that is exactly what North Beach St. is! 'Boulevard' properly applies to Canal Boulevard in New Orleans; but, regrettably we have no boulevards in Bay St. Louis.

According to Webster's Third New International Dictionary, boulevard is "a broad thoroughfare, one more pretentious than an ordinary street or avenue; often having grassplots with trees along the center or between curbing and sidewalk."

Successful jr. firefighter camp attributed to many

To the Editor:

I would like to recognize those who contributed to the great success of our Junior Fire-fighter Mini-Camp.

To the children who attended the camp July 14-15, we enjoyed having you all, and I hope what you learned you will share with others. Fire prevention is part of everyday life, and if practiced, may save a life, maybe your own!

To the parents of participating children for their patience. Bringing and picking up your children indicates your support for what we are trying to accomplish in fire prevention.

All off-duty firefighters who assisted — Lt. Michael Smith, training officer; firefighters Kenny Jones and Matt Whitman;

The Hancock County Lawmen's Association and National Food Store in Waveland for their donation of the doughnuts for both days; Deputy State Fire Marshal David Dry, Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate, and the Waveland and Bay St. Louis Police Departments for their program on bicycle safety and fingerprinting the children;

Wal-Mart in Waveland for providing a large fan; The Sea Coast Echo for announcing the mini-camp; Tim Isbell from The Sun Herald, Doc Toups from The Hancock Reporter and Mr. Al Showers from WLOX-TV for their news coverage;

Mrs. Barbara Garcia and Mrs. Melanie Smith for program assistance and volunteer work; and Mario Centobie of the d'Iberville Fire Department;

Special recognition goes to Waveland American Legion and Jay Marsh for providing transportation to Waveland School for lunch; and the Waveland School Cafeteria ladies for serving a great lunch.

At the closing ceremony, we appreciated Mayor Frilot presenting each child with a certificate of attendance.

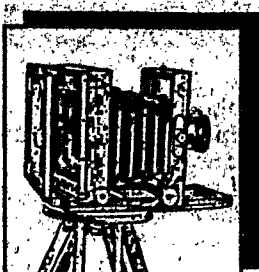

I can only say, without everyone pulling together, this summer camp would not have been a success. Strong support and commitment to fire safety education is the essential ingredient that saves lives and makes fire prevention work.

I would like to close by asking the reader to answer the following fire safety questions:

Your family's asleep... you smell smoke as the hallway smoke detector signals you to get out! What should you do? Far too many people can't answer this question because they've never developed and practiced a home fire escape plan.

The Waveland Fire Department urges you to "Play It Safe... Plan Your Escape." For more information, contact the Waveland Fire Department or your local area fire department.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

It's been a slow year for the stock market. "Up" has definitely not been the word since January... unless you are a Mississippi-based company.

For a state that has ranked last in so many areas, Mississippi is rising to the top in the stock market. Stocks of 25 companies based in Mississippi or with major operations in the state have risen this year by the highest percentage ever—33.9. This upward movement in the market has been assisted by stocks from four casinos based in Mississippi. But, take away the glitz and glamour and the state still has an outstanding performance.

Mississippi companies, discharging casino stocks, rose an average of 21 percent in stocks in the first six months of the year.

The best part of Mississippi's outstanding showing in the stock market is the fact that these stocks are held by a majority of Mississippians. Stockholders in the state are investing their money with hometown companies.

These investments in the state show that Mississippi has confidence in itself. Mississippians are willing to invest in local companies, and that says a lot for the state.

Mississippians can use the stock market as an example of what this state needs in order to expand economically. Investing in the state is essential not only to the financial status of Mississippi, but to the state's overall well being. Education, employment opportunities and economic development can all benefit from a healthy investment in the state.

Stocks that are rising today may be falling tomorrow. But one thing's for sure — Mississippi is near the top in stock market growth. And it got there with the help of its own people... Mississippians investing in their state.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Best of summer's bounty is garden-grown tomatoes

Talk about gluttons! My rate of consumption of fresh-from-the-garden tomatoes certainly places me in that category these summer days, as I indulge my tomato cravings in countless ways.

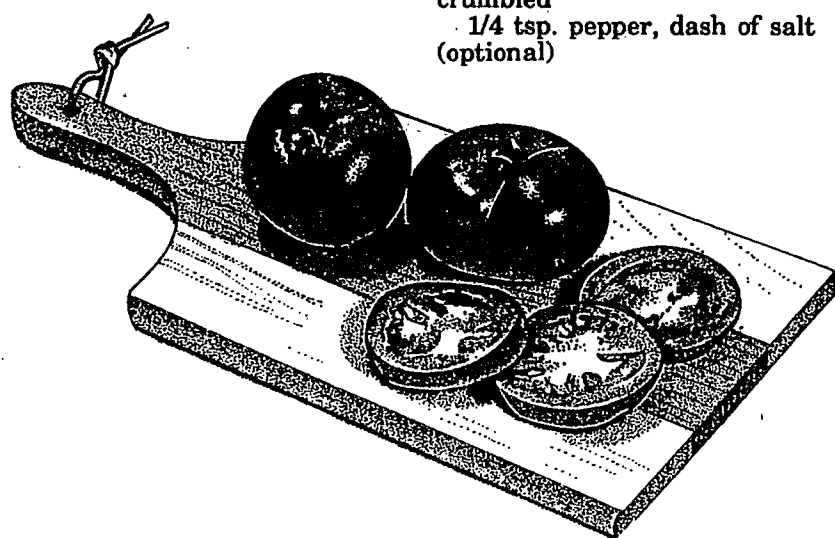

Not fresh from my garden, I hasten to add, not this brownest of brown-thumb gardeners; but from the gardens of greener-thumbed and generous friends, who share their bounty with me.

Juicy, vine-ripened tomatoes are, surely, among nature's greatest gifts to us mortals, and oh, how I bless those brave souls who were the first so long ago to venture a bite of the allegedly poisonous "love apple" as the tomato was known in early days, when it was considered a purely decorative plant.

To exchange a "love apple" was a sign of affection in the early days of our country; but, to eat one, never. That is, until, so legend tells us, a brave farmer in New England dared to do so before the eyes of his friends gathered in the town square.

However, from earliest times, the Indians of Mexico and South America enjoyed the "tomatl" which grew in abundance all around. It just took our ancestors awhile to catch on to the flavorful wonders of the tomato!

So, whether your tomatoes come from a home garden or farmer's market or supermarket, or from a roadside stand or truck, enjoy!

Among my favorite tomato treats is:

SUMMER TOMATO PIE
1 pie shell (if you're ambitious, make your own or use a mix)

4 ripe, sliced tomatoes, medium size
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1 cup grated Swiss cheese
2 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
1/4 tsp. pepper, dash of salt (optional)

1/2 cup chopped green onions, tops included
2 Tbsp. butter
2 Tbsp. seasoned bread crumbs
Basil, oregano to your taste
Bake the pie crust in a 425 degree oven for 10 minutes or so, until golden. Let cool. Spoon the cheese into the crust, sprinkle with bacon, and arrange the sliced tomatoes over the cheese. Sprinkle pepper, salt, seasonings.

Meanwhile, saute the green onions in the butter, spoon over the top of the dish. Bake in a 325-degree oven for approximately 20 minutes or just until the tomatoes are somewhat on the soft-tender side.

Or, if you've some green tomatoes on hand, and like them as much as I do, try what I like to call:

GREEN TOMATO GREAT

Slice tomatoes, as few or as many as you need for those to be served. Sprinkle each slice with oregano, chopped parsley, salt, pepper and fine bread crumbs or crushed crackers.

Dot generously with butter or margarine, and top with shredded Cheddar cheese. That's for each layer of tomato slices, remember.

When you've filled your baking dish with as many layers as you need (topping each layer as above) pop into the oven and bake at 350 degrees for 30 or 40 minutes, until the cheese melts and the crumbs turn a nice brown.

Wilkerson receives Legion's 'Blue Cap Legionnaire' award

The American Legion Department of Mississippi held its 75th annual convention in Natchez July 16-18.

Commander Fred Ingellis presented the Blue Cap Legionnaire of the Year Award to John Wilkerson of Bay St. Louis.

While making the announcement, Ingellis described Wilkerson's dedication to the community, state and nation.

"He is a leader in his post, his city and his department. John has given of his time, money and talent to make life a little better for this fellowman. John has been a Legionnaire for 40 years and has served unselfishly for all those years.

"He has served as post commander three times and is presently serving as state convention chairman. In spite of some setbacks, his volunteer work continues," said Ingellis.

The formal presentation of the award will be made at the Mid-Winter Conference in Meridian. Wilkerson was nominated for the award by Clement R. Bontemps, Post 139 of Bay St. Louis where he is a life member.

Keelser training manager named tops

An NCO from the 335th Technical Training Squadron at Keelser was named the Air Force and Air Education and Training Command Senior Military Training Manager of the Year for 1992.

TSgt. Howard Coakley first learned of the awards from Lt. Col. David Whitley Jr., his commander, as the squadron was decorating the military training flight for the Mississippi Special Olympics activities at Keesler Air Force Base last month. "He's an outstanding military training manager whose exemplary bearing, conduct and appearance make him the ultimate model for students," said Colonel Whitley.

A veteran of 19½ years in the Air Force, Coakley is active in the Wesley United Methodist Church, where he serves as chairman of the evangelism committee and co-chairman of the financial committee. He also works with the Children With Attention Deficit Disorder Support Group.

The representative directed further questions to Budget's corporate headquarters.

through May were still climbing.

October-to-May 1993 sales tax receipts diverted back to the city by the State Tax Commission jumped an amazing 27 percent over the same period, October to May, 1992.

The tremendous growth overshadowed a two percent increase during the same monthly period from 1991 to 1992, and an actual five percent drop in collections during the same period in 1991 as compared with 1990.

Bay St. Louis sales tax diversions in 1992 were $343,512.57 as compared to $470,028.59 in 1993.

Those figures reflect the fact that from October to May 1992 to October to May 1993, total retail sales generated in Bay St. Louis jumped from $27.2 million to $37.3 million.

ACS youth council plans Aug. 7 volleyball tourney

Get your team together...a volleyball tournament on August 7 is seeking competitors.

"Playing For Prevention" is the theme of a fund-raising tournament to benefit the Hancock County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. The ACS youth council, comprised of high school juniors and seniors, is planning the event.

Teams must consist of six people, male or female, of any age. One alternate is allowed. Entry fee is $5 per person in the open competition for individuals or $10 per person for commercially sponsored teams. An extra fee of $2 per person will be charged for those registering on the day of the tournament.

Competition will begin at 8 a.m. on the corner of Highway 90 and Beach Boulevard.

Food and drinks will be available.

For additional information or registration information, call Julie Scianna at 467-4505.

The ACS youth council has taken an active role in the community since its organization earlier this year. During nutrition month, council members viewed videotapes on healthy eating habits and sponsored a contest in area elementary schools to increase awareness of good nutrition.

Members also assisted with the annual American Cancer Society Red Beans and Rice Cookoff.

Red drum stock is replenishing

State and federal management of red drum in the Gulf of Mexico seems to be helping to replenish depleted stocks.

According to the National Marine Fisheries Service Red Drum Stock Assessment Panel, the Gulfwide average escapement rate (the probability of a fish surviving through age 3) is expected to exceed 40 percent by the end of 1993.

If fishing mortality remains constant at the estimated rates in 1991, the spawning potential ratio (percentage of mature fish) will reach about 20 percent in 1997.

The management objective is to provide a 30 percent escapement rate and increase the spawning potential ratio above 20 percent which is the threshold index for overfishing.

While Mississippi recreational fishermen are already noticing the benefits of the three fish bag/22-inch minimum size limits in our state, Louisiana is the kingpin when it comes to red-fish angling among the five Gulf Coast states.

In the years 1988-1991, Louisiana sports fishermen harvested twice as many redfish as the other four Gulf states combined. This is even more dramatic when you realize that both the states of Florida and Texas each alone have far more saltwater fishermen than Louisiana. (Excerpted from Gulf Fishery News, Vol. 14, No. 3 and Lagniappe, Vol. 17, No. 6).

Exchange Club raffles $108,000 home

BY LIZ HAAS

The South Mississippi Exchange Clubs raffle of a $108,000 Diamondhead home has 2,000-to-1 odds of winning, but the state president of the Exchange Club claims every one's a winner in this drawing. "Entering the drawing is not only an investment in the house, but an investment in the prevention of child abuse," said state president Franklin Williams. "And whether you win the house or not, you have still won by helping to fight child abuse."

The Orange Grove Exchange Club is spearheading the project. Other clubs in the South

Mississippi Exchange Clubs include the Hancock County, Gulfport, and Biloxi Exchange Clubs.

"The Exchange Clubs prime thrust is child abuse prevention," said Williams. "Proceeds from the drawing will be used for the operations of the South Mississippi Child Abuse Prevention Center, Inc., the Family Child Center, a private, non-profit, child abuse prevention center."

The Club has ownership of the lot in Diamondhead where the house will be built.

The three bedroom home comes complete with two baths, a fireplace, porch and carport. The location is Lot #2-7A-6-6, at 88381 Diamondhead Drive East, Diamondhead.

Williams said 2,000 tickets will be sold for the drawing. "When we get the first 1,200 tickets sold, we will find a builder and begin building the home, and the drawing will be done after the home is built and 2,000 tickets are sold," he said.

Williams said over 200 tickets were sold so far.

"It's rolling and we've only been selling them for a week," he said.

Williams said, "We're shooting for September to begin the construction and to have the drawing for "Christmas week." He said the project will be an annual affair for the South Mississippi Exchange Clubs.

"Some of the grants we do our work with have been discontinued this year, so we had to raise the money to replace those funds," he said.

Williams said the usual fundraisers the clubs sponsor do not make near $100,000.

"I heard about another Exchange Club in Ohio doing this project and decided to do it," he said.

In Harrison County 932 incidents of child abuse were reported last year and the number totals 463 so far this year.

In Hancock County 294 cases of child abuse were reported in 1992 and 154 cases have been reported in 1993 through May.

Make $100 checks payable to The Exchange Club of Orange Grove and send with registration form to "Living For Youth," P.O. Box 3468, Gulfport, MS 39505.

VA insurance hoax revived

An insurance hoax that has returned time and again for more than 40 years to create administrative problems for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has been revived by groups asking veterans to pay for assistance in collecting a nonexistent life insurance dividend.

"In the past, the insurance hoax caused only administrative problems for VA. Now there are those who are trying to make a profit at the expense of veterans, and we are resolved to stopping them," said VA secretary Jesse Brown.

"I have instructed the VA inspector general to work with the postal service to do everything possible to put an end to this latest version of the hoax and to alert all veterans," he added.

VA's regional office and insurance center in Philadelphia reports veterans and active duty personnel throughout the country have received flyers, including return forms, from groups or individuals offering veterans assistance in applying for the dividends or in answering questions they may have for fees ranging from $2 to $15 for each request.

The flyers falsely claim that dividends from veterans' life insurance policies are available to any veteran who applies. For veterans who served at least two years in the military, the flyers claim the dividends range from $264 for two years of service and increase for each additional year of service.

The phony applications and flyers, past and present, claim the dividends have been recently authorized by Congress. In fact, there is no such dividend for veterans who do not keep their insurance in force, nor a rebate for active duty personnel. No legislation has been approved or proposed by Congress.

In the past, the hoax applications were unwittingly printed in magazines, newspapers and newsletters, or distributed in handbills.

The hoax has caused wasted effort by thousands of veterans, active duty personnel and dependents, and has generated needless labor and mailing expense by VA.

Legitimate insurance dividends are automatically paid, usually on the anniversary date of the policy, to approximately 3 million veterans with active policies in four GI life insurance programs. No application is needed to receive the dividend payment.

Veterans who have additional questions are asked to call VA at 1-800-827-1000.

Stennis technology provides Midwest flooding information

NASA is providing needed assistance to the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) efforts to gather information about the flood-damaged Midwest.

On July 17 and 18, at FEMA's request, personnel from NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center flew specialized sensors mounted in an airplane over portions of the Midwestern states.

The first two missions covered an area from Cairo, Ill. to Chester, Ill. with an emphasis on Cape Girardeau, Mo. Plans for another fly-over to acquire digital imagery and infrared photographs — from Kansas City, Mo. to Omaha, Neb. — will be arranged, weather permitting, at the first opportunity.

With digital imagery, information from a particular area can be collected, computer analyzed and compiled more quickly than conventional photography. The resulting information is more versatile than other forms of data. Changes in conditions can be updated and edited immediately.

The FEMA will use these images to assist in charting flood-damaged areas, to boost the emergency management agency's computer database on the region and to update flood insurance maps.

In addition, the data will be used in assessing the status of residential and industrial areas and related infrastructure such as roads, bridges and rail services.

Another major concern to FEMA is getting initial disaster assistance to the people who need it most.

"The NASA data will be especially useful to the federal Emergency Management Agency in their efforts to quickly settle flood insurance claims, making sure those who need the help receive assistance in a very timely manner," said NASA's Roy Estess, director of Stennis Space Center. "This is an effective use of available resources that can save taxpayer dollars."

While flying the aerial reconnaissance missions, photographic-like digital imagery and high-resolution infrared photographs were taken of the flooded region. The missions were flown at 41,000 feet and at 6,500 feet, producing both multispectral digital imagery and color photography at different degrees of resolution down to 15 feet.

"We hope that NASA and SSC are providing a valuable service to the Federal Emergency Management Agency. While other agencies are furnishing data to FEMA, NASA is the only agency offering digital imagery," Estess said.

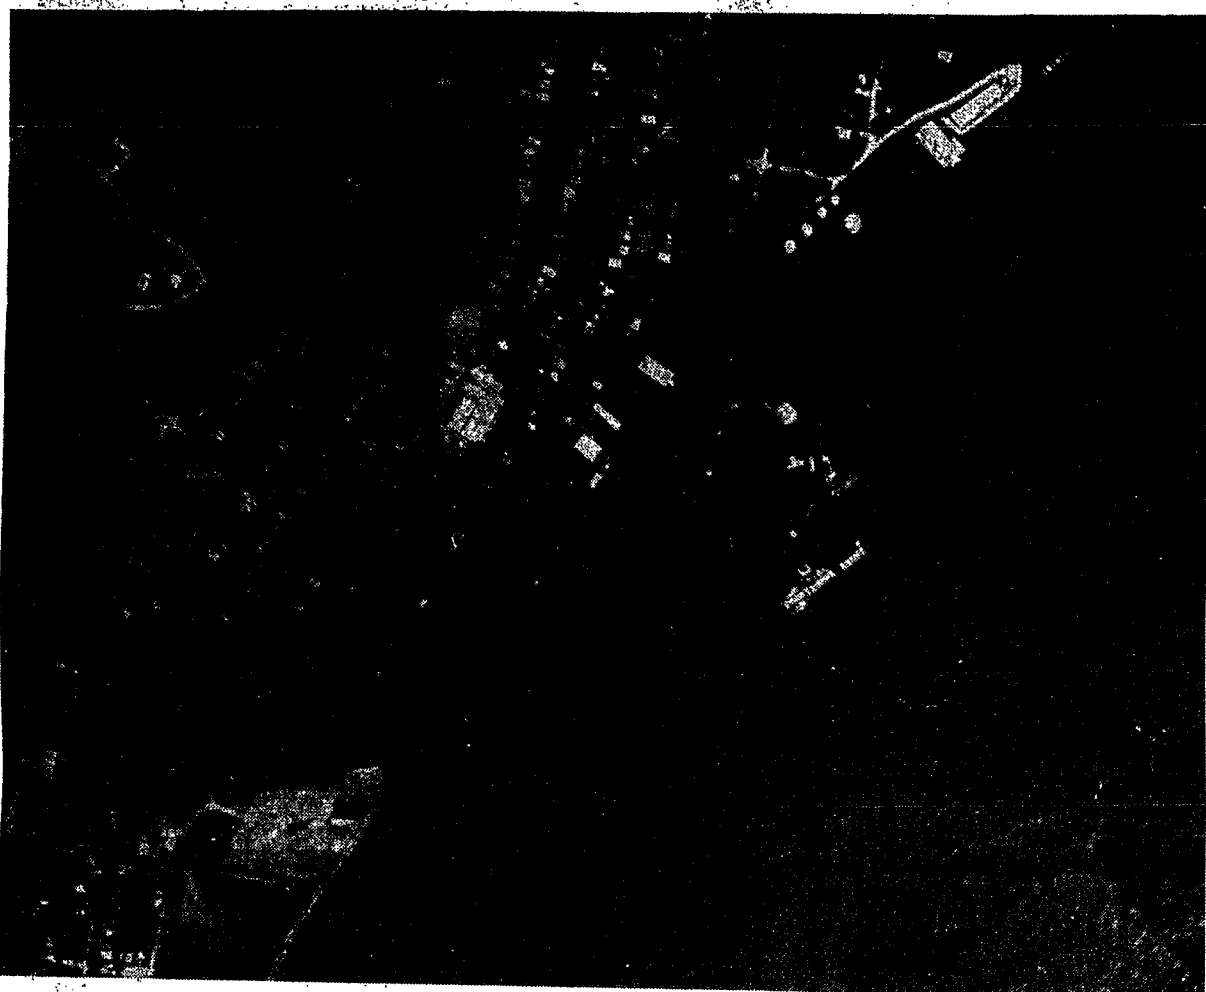

SSC can respond quickly with much needed information in emergency situations. This NASA facility in south Mississippi has played an integral part in developing digital imaging technology for use in disaster assessment.

In August 1992, SSC provided the state of Florida with both digital imagery and infrared photography of South Florida areas hit hardest by Hurricane Andrew. The imagery helped officials assess the damage, prioritize relief efforts and develop long-term land use plans.

SSC continues to work with FEMA as that agency follows the cresting of the Mississippi River and the areas affected by the flooding.

"We remain in close contact with FEMA and will provide assistance in an effort to help resolve this national emergency," said Estess.

Flood damage

The above infrared photograph, acquired by NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center July 18, clearly shows the devastation impact flooding has had on Cape Girardeau, Mo. Stennis Space Center is providing assistance to the Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) efforts to gather information about the flood-damaged Midwest. FEMA is using the NASA-obtained color infrared photography to help in quickly settling flood insurance claims. The photography and digital imagery will also be used to update flood maps, boost FEMA's database and chart flood-damaged areas. The line of trees furthest to the right lies along the bank of the Mississippi River prior to flooding. The photograph depicts, in great detail, the homes, businesses and supporting infrastructure affected by rising flood waters.

Mobile Medic breaks ground on new offices

Harrison, Hancock, Hinds and Madison counties.

As the leading provider of pre-hospital care in Mississippi, we are proud to house our corporate office in Harrison County and to continue to grow along with the City of Gulfport," commented John K. Rester, chief executive officer.

WEDDINGS

Favre-Smith

Sherri Maria Smith and Lawrence Julian Favre, both of Bay St. Louis, were united in marriage May 8, 1993, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

The Rev. Cuthbert O'Connell officiated at the 3 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Maria P. Smith of Bay St. Louis and the late David A. Smith and the granddaughter of Ray Harold Garcia of Clermont Harbor and the late Lillian G. Garcia and the late Lawrence C. Peterson. Also, she is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Smith, Carriere.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ronald "Ronnie" Favre of Bay St. Louis and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tartavouille and Mrs. Ursula Favre, all of Bay St. Louis, and the late Lawrence Favre.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride chose a white satin gown ornamented with iridescent pearls and lace and a Victorian neckline with long, puffed sleeves. The chapel-length train was embellished with lace, baby's breath and pearls designed by the bride's mother, and it had a crystal crown veil adorned with pearls and lace.

She carried a bouquet of gardenias, rose buds, ivy and fern with pearls and ribbon entwined throughout the bouquet.

Maid of honor was Sheila Smith of Jackson, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Kim Green and Theresa Peterson of Bay St. Louis, Heddi Peterson of Waveland and Melissa Thornton Murphree of Jackson.

Miniature bride was Lacey LaFontaine of Bay St. Louis. Eddie Dedaux of Waveland was miniature groom.

Serving as flower girl was Brandi Peterson of Waveland. Ringbearer was Michael Cure of Waveland.

Brian Favre, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Denis Dear, Rob Compretta, Randy Jordan and Scott Tartavouille, all of Bay St. Louis.

Ushers were Jimmy Ray Thornton of Clermont Harbor and Stephen Favre of Dallas, Texas.

Nuptial music was provided by organist Ollie McKenna and soloists, Mrs. Sally Kappus and Brandy and Amy Saunders.

A reception followed at American Legion Post 77 in Waveland. Entertainment was provided by Southern Comfort. The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Pre-nuptial parties

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at The Galley Restaurant the night before the wedding.

Pre-nuptial parties given in the couple's honor included:

April 18, a miscellaneous bridal shower was given by Mrs. Carolyn Favre, mother of the groom, and Nikki Nicaise, Lila Taylor, Linda Tomasich, Lynette Carbon and Kathy Morel.

April 25, a miscellaneous shower was hosted by the mother of the bride, Maria Smith, aunts, cousins and bridesmaids.

Eating disorders, breast cancer topics of WYES documentaries

The body obsession that afflicts countless North American women and breast cancer, a disease that some describe as having reached epidemic proportions, will be addressed in a pair of documentaries airing on WYES/Channel 12 in August.

The Famine Within, airing Wednesday, Aug. 12 at 8 p.m., addresses North American women's obsession with body size and shape.

Featuring the views of leading experts and the testimony of a cross-section of women who have been victims of the body obsession, the program explores the eating disorders that can result from striving for the unrealistic physical standards promoted in the media.

The Famine Within also points out a curious paradox in that this perfect-body quest afflicts women at a time when women face "serious challenges of self-definition" in the working world.

The program, produced by Direct Cinema Limited of Santa Monica, Calif. is the winner of the Canadian Academy Award for best documentary.

Immediately following this program is Breast Cancer: Speaking Out, which airs at 9:30 p.m. The program presents interviews with breast cancer patients who discuss their efforts to force a reluctant political system to face up to this disease, which killed 44,000 women in the United States last year.

The program also talks to breast cancer advocates leading the movement to take breast cancer "out of the closet," and challenging the complacency of the public, the health care system, insurance companies and the government have shown toward the disease.

Breast Cancer: Speaking Out asks why we still know so little about the causes and treatment of breast cancer when its numbers are so staggering. It questions why victims of this disease feel excluded from important decisions about their treatment.

Slidell trade fair, car show benefits retarded citizens

Commercial booth will be set up inside and outside the auditorium. Same-day entry for car show participants for $20 is available. Free red beans/rice dinner Saturday night for all commercial booth and car show participants. Free t-shirt to all prepaid entries.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Admission is $2 for adults, children under 12 free. Proceeds to benefit St. Tammany Association for Retarded Citizens Inc.

Smith attends drug abuse training

Bay St. Louis educator Marilyn Smith was among 35 school personnel selected to attend a University of Southern Mississippi program focusing on "gateway" drugs — which often led to the abuse or more dangerous drugs.

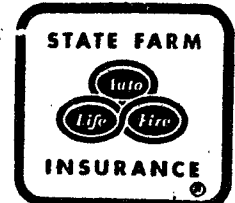

The Gateway Drug Prevention Institute at USM's Long Beach campus June 5-15 was designed to provide South Mississippi school personnel with intensive training in alcohol and other drug prevention.

Participants developed plans to educate and involve parents, to integrate alcohol and other drug education and prevention within the classroom setting and provide training for other school personnel.

Training included role-modeling and self-esteem characteristics of high-risk youth, and age-appropriate prevention strategies.

GOD'S PLAN

"DON'T LET THE WORLD AROUND YOU SQUEEZE YOU INTO ITS MOULD, BUT LET GOD RE-MOULD YOUR MINDS FROM WITHIN, SO THAT YOU MAY PROVE IN PRACTICE THAT THE PLAN OF GOD FOR YOU IS GOOD. MEETS ALL HIS DEMANDS AND MOVES TOWARDS THE GOAL OF TRUE MATURITY."
— ROM. 12:2 (PHIL. 1:3)

His plan is the best for your life.
Why settle for second rate with your own?

Your local churches welcome you into their fellowship.
